It is said that a woman, to be beautiful, must sleep—sleep—sleep. We do not know whether the North Carolina girls are given to much sleep, but they are pretty enough to keep a man's eyes wide open all the time.

Judge Parker is sedately reticent during the campaign. Roosevelt is preternaturally quiet, either under restraint of wiser heads than his or because he thinks this is the time of his life to try what virture there is in discretion.

A colored couple in Texas have just celebrated the 92nd anniversary of their wedding. Crumpacker, the Indiana Congressman, won't believe it, for it is his opinion that a negro isn't allowed to live that long in the South.

Mr. C. J. Harris, the Republican nominee for governor, is said to be a most excellent man. Well, then, as soon as he finds out that he is in the wrong pew he will come over to the Democratic party. Just now he is a good man gone wrong.

"What are we to expect next?" inquires the Boston Herald. If you eat sausage you can expect to find some Chicago sausage maker's finger in a link some of these days. He got it cut off in a sausage machine a few days ago.

A Denver man is in jail for chasing his sweetheart with a loaded pistol. He ought have known that buggy rides in the moonlight, ice cream every time there is a stroll down town, and a box at the theatre would get more than a pistol.

Says the New York Commercial: "A shark nine feet long has been placed in the aquarium." We refuse to be interested in that item. The land sharks who are trying to get into office are the ones whom we want to see doing a floundering stunt.

Says the San Antonia Gazette: "Texas produced over 13,500,000 chickens last year. The Methodist persuasion is strong in the State." Look out for yourselves there, you colored cotton pickers. Don't run off to Texas just because the immigration agent appeals to you like that.

We do not think it necessary to abuse Tom Watson, Dr. Swallow or Eugene V. Debbs. They wanted the honor of being named for President by their respective parties and as long as they are not in the running we don't propse to look back at the fellows that are walking. But we forgot; Watson is a pacer for Roosevelt.

Big Scheme for Extensive Government Improvement of Beaufort Harbor.

MR. HOWLAND ON THE MOVE.

The Lessee of the A. & N. C. Railroad Has Interested Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, in His Plans. Supreme Court Decisions.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., September 13.—A telegram received to-day by United States Senator F. M. Simmons from Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, asking him to meet Senator Aldrich at Beaufort Thursday to examine the harbor there to see what can be done by the government in dredging the bar for the passage of larger vessels into the harbor. Mr. R. S. Howland, lessee of the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad, will be with Senator Aldrich. In fact the proposed conference is brought about through Mr. Howland with a view to his promotion plans for developing the A. & N. C. The Bar at Beaufort now admits vessels of fourteen to eighteen feet and it is claimed that an expenditure of little more than $100,000 in dredging vessels of 25 or 30 feet draft can be brought into the harbor.

The Supreme Court to-day handed down opinons as follows: Bottom vs. Railroad, Northampton, error; Meekins vs. Railroad, Tyrell, new trial; Copeland vs. Telephone Co., Dare, no error; Graves vs. Railroad, Pasquotank, no error; Gerald vs. Railroad, Beaufort, per curiam, affirmed; Winder vs Railroad, Pasquotank, per curiam, affirmed; Brown vs. Railroad, Northampton, per curiam, affirmed.

Third district appeals were argued as follows:

State vs. Leary, by attorney general for the State, Simmons and Ward for defendant; State vs. Fleming, by attorney general for the State, no counsel contra; Harrington vs. Rawls, by Jarvis and Blow for plaintiff, Skinner and Whedbee and Fleming and Moore for defendant; Jones vs. Sugg, by G. M. Linday for plaintiff, Jarvis and Blow and Shepherd for defendant; Avery vs. Stewart, by D. L. Ward and W. D. McIver for plaintiff, O. H. Guion for defendant; Tripp vs. Nobles, by Jarvis and Blow for plaintiff, Skinner and Whedbee for defendant; Bladen vs. Dewey, by O. H. Guion, D. L. Ward and Rountree and Carr for plaintiff and W. C. Munroe for defendant.

THE E. F. YOUNG CASE.

In Raleigh on Monday the Ex-President of the Bank of Dunn Was Declared an Involuntary Bankrupt.

The Hon. H. L. Godwin and Messrs. Godwin & Davis, of the Dunn bar, were in Raleigh on Monday, and were heard by Judge Purnell, of the United States Court, in connection with the petition to declare E. F. Young an involuntary bankrupt. These lawyers represented intervening creditors, and Mr. Young was present with his attorneys, Messrs. D. T. Oats and J. C. Clifford. The cause was argued upon a motion for judicature of bankruptcy on account of failure to answer, and after argument by counsel it was ordered and adjudged that E. F. Young be declared an involuntary bankrupt. The case was then referred to Samuel H. MacRae, Esq., referee in bankruptcy, at Fayetteville, for disposition under order of the court. The respondent Young, through his attorneys, gave notice in open court of his intention to file a petition for review in the Circuit Court of Appeals at Richmond, Va.

Mr. Young, who was president of the Bank of Dunn which failed some time ago, turned over by transfer all of his property to creditors. Both he and his cashier in the bank were, however, officers of the town and the county of Harnett, both of which suffered by the failure of the bank. The petition, therefore, seeks to set aside the conveyances of property as having been made in contemplation of bankruptcy, and giving preferences denied by the act.

The matter has been in the courts for some time and will be fought out before the higher court. The amount of the alleged preferences is considerable.

GOOD PERFORMANCE.

Crowded House Greeted Opening of the Osman-Hoyt Company.

Before an audience of gigantic proportion—one that entirely filled the lower part of the house and almost all he balcony—the Osman-Hoyt Stock Company made its debut to Wilmington last night at the Academy, inaugurating a five night's engagement with a splendid production of "Her Lord and Master." The piece was much enjoyed and praised by the large audience. The specialities also afforded those present great pleasure. The foremost vaudeville artists were Kit Leavens, who highly amused with a sketch of comedy nature, and Miss Marguerite Osman who did a snappy buck dance.

"Resurrection," one of the greatest Russian dramas ever offered and the masterpiece of Count Tolstoi, will be presented to-night. This is one of the feature bills of the company. A new line of specialities will be introduced, and as last night, the Academy's superb orchestra will render a special programme.

The prices throughout the engagement will remain 10, 20 and 30 cents. Seats for to-night are now on sale at Plummers.

FOUR DEEDS FILED.

New General Manager of the A. & N. C.

B. F. Foster, formerly freight agent for the Southern Railway at Asheville but recently appointed general manager of the Atlantic & North Carolina Railway upon the lease of the road to R. S. Howland, arrived yesterday in Newbern to take up the duties of his official position.

As a mark of the esteem and respect in which Mr. Foster is held by the employes of the freight department at Asheville, the retiring freight agent was presented with a beautiful fob and locket. On one side of the locket are Mr. Foster's initials, while on the other are the words: "Presented by office force, 1904."

Mr. Foster has the reputation of being a good railroad man, and is popular wherever he is known.

The Pestiferous False Prophet.

Says the Newbern Journal of yesterday:

"Prince George, the negro prophet who got his race in trouble in Wilmington and James City has been heard from. He writes that he is bound for New Berne and that he will set another date for the destruction of those places which he thoroughly believes will stick."

Prince George is the pestiferous false prophet whose prediction that Wilmington would be totally destroyed by fire last August caused hundred of negroes to leave the city. The railroads and steamboats profited by his prediction, but it cost the poor superstitious negroes many a dollar that they were not able to lose.

MAIDEN VOYAGE.

The Steamer Mohican Arrived in Port from New York Yesterday Morning.

SHE BELONGS TO CLYDE LINE.

The Ship is a Brand New One and the Most Modern Freight Carrying Vessel That Ever Came to Wilmington—In Gala Attire.

The handsome new steamship "Mohican," belonging to the Clyde Steamship Company of New York, arrived in Wilmington yesterday morning from New York on her maiden voyage. Captain E. W. Devereaux, one of the Clyde Line's most popular commanders, was in command, and he brought a full cargo for Wilmington and Georgetown.

On account of this being her first trip, Capt. Devereaux had his ship gaily decorated with flags and bunting. With the various colored bunting floating all over her, she was quite an attractive spectacle at her wharf at the foot of Chesnut street.

The sight was so unusual, except on George Washington's birthday or some national holiday, that large crowds went to the Clyde Line's wharves to see what was the matter.

Large numbers were cordially allowed on board and they greatly admired the ship. She is a brand new ship and is the most modern built of her class. She is the handsomest and most admirably equipped freight carrying steamer that ever visited Wilmington, and all agree that it was quite a compliment to our port that she was sent here on her first voyage.

The "Mohican" was built at Cramps shipyard at Philadelphia, and was only recently turned over to the Clyde Steamship Company. Her length is 237 feet and her width of beam 40 feet. Her gross tonnage of displacement is 2,355 and her net tonnage 1,770. She is equipped with the latest improved triple expansion engines and machinery and has a speed of 12 knots an hour and more when she is pushed. She carries a crew of 26 men.

Those who were on board the magnificent vessel were struck with the modern appliances with which she is equipped for handling a cargo with facility and dispatch. It is said that there is no steamer engaged in the coastwise trade that can so easily and quickly take on or unload a cargo. She has capacious holds and will carry an enormous freight. She can take on a cargo of 5,000 bales of cotton, or other freight in proportion. The steamer has three decks and at each end of the steamer there are two hatches leading down into her hold of 29 feet. A steam winch is used for loading and unloading merchandise.

There is no end of space on the new steamer and the splendid accommodations and abundance of room for her officers and crew. She is not equipped to carry passengers but her officers have palatial quarters and every convenience for their comfort. The quarters are midship. The dining saloon is a beauty. The decks of the ship, fore and aft, are clean, and all the wood work, flooring and upholstering in the rooms are on an elegant scale.

Captain Devereaux, her popular and accommodating young commander, is congratulated upon being in charge of a vessel of the character of the "Mohican." She discharged her cargo for Wilmington yesterday and left last night for Georgetown.

On her voyage to Wilmington the "Mohican" rescued a shipwrecked crew, and the particulars are given elsewhere in the STAR.

NO RACE AGAIN YESTERDAY.

August Regatta Will Probably Give Way to the September Event.

Again yesterday the August regatta of the Carolina Yacht Club had to be "called off" and this time it is probably "off" for good, as the September race is now near at hand. It seems that the element had conspired against the success of the August event, for yesterday morning, when it was thought that the race would surely take place, a wind of much stiffness arpang up and developed into such a vigorous character that the race had to be "called off." However, only two yachts reported for the race. They were the "Sadie" and the "Puzzle."

It is now about time for the September regatta, which will likely be sailed next week.

DID HE STEAL PANTS?

Carnival Man Brings Dire Charge Against Another Show Man.

For stealing a pair of pants, one of the carnival men had another one of the same class arrested yesterday afternoon, and the accused is now in the station house awaiting trial in the police court to-day at noon. The alleged thief is a hungry appearing young white man, called Henry Davis, and his accuser is one of the showmen, named J. Gross. The latter says the former has stolen other articles, but yesterday afternoon he caught him "sporting" his stolen trousers. Then he called upon the police to arrest the thief and recover his lost wearing apparel.

A dip in the ocean these hot afternoons is a pleasure beyond compare—car every half hour in the afternoon. †

CROPS IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Indications That Cotton Will be Considerably Below the Average—Corn as a Rule Good—Other Crops, Etc.

The crop bulletin for the week ending Monday, September 12th, says:

A general rain occurred on the first day of the week, but during the succeeding days fair and dry weather prevailed. The nights were cool, but in the daytime there was a good amount of sunshine and the temperatures were quite high and about seasonal. The week was, therefore, not too dry for the growing crops, and at the same time very favorable for farm work and for the saving of crops that have reached the stage of maturity. Fodder pulling has made great headway in all sections of the State; in the eastern it is over, while in the western it is just under good start. The fodder is excellent and is being saved in good condition. Corn, as a rule, is good, but the crop will not be as large as was expected several weeks ago. Cotton picking is general in the eastern half of the State, but is slightly retarded on account of the scarcity of labor; in the western counties the bolls are beginning to open, and picking will soon become general in about ten days. Complaints of shedding come from all sections, and the present indications are that the crop will be considerably below the average. Tobacco curing and cutting is in full state of progression in the north-central counties. There is a shortage in the crop, but the equality in the cures is highly satisfactory. Peanuts were greatly benefitted by the rain on the 5th, and continue to do well in most places. Much pea vine hay has been cut and saved in good condition. Sweet potatoes are turning out well. Fall potatoes and turnips are growing satisfactorily. In the extreme western counties the buckwheat crop looks promising and that of wheat and oats has turned out well, threshing being in the state of completion. Minor crops are generally good.

PLUCKY LADY.

Miss Duguid Fired at a Burglar Yesterday Morning.

Miss Mary E. Duguid, who resides on Eighth street, between Grace and Walnut streets, had a trying experience yesterday morning. She bravely met it, however, and proved that she will use a pistol in defence of herself.

On Monday the other members of the family were absent and that night she was sleeping alone in the house. About midnight she heard a noise and satisfied that it was some one attempting to break into the house, she got up, lighted a lamp and got her pistol to give the intruder a warm welcome. He left, however, but at 2 o'clock A. M. he returned. Miss Duguid was awakened by a noise on the back piazza and found that the burglar had broken through the lattice work and was trying to get into the house. She threw open a window and fired in the direction of the burglar, and saw a rush run off the piazza. She was not able to see whether he was white or colored, but it made no difference to her, as she is prepared to put a bullet in either.

THE CARNIVAL.

The Crystal Maze and Other Attractions Opened Yesterday—Rain Last Night.

Yesterday was the second day of the Carnival given under the auspices of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics.

The scene of the attractions at Sixth and Red Cross streets was visited by quite a large number of people. In addition to the attractions which opened Monday night, the Crystal Maze, "Trip to the Moon," and several other tented shows opened. They were all very liberally patronized. Rain interfered with the performances and gaiety last night.

To-day all the shows will be open, and especially to-night, a large crowd is expected to be present.

ATTRACTIONS NEXT WEEK.

Hungarian Orchestra and Other Notables Will be at the Academy.

Three attractions are booked for the Academy for next week and will include the opening of the Lyceum Course by the Hungarian Orchestra on Monday night. This will be a notable musical event and the box sheet will open at Plummer's Friday, but on this day only the regular holders of the season books will be allowed to reserve seats. Saturday morning the sale for the general public will commence and the price of seats will be $1 each.

Tuesday night of next week the ever popular "Human Hearts" will hold the boards and later in the week Faust's famed minstrels will appear.

DR. HALE TO WED TO-DAY.

[Special Star Telegram.]

GREENSBORO, N. C., Sept. 13.—The Rev. Dr. Fred. D. Hale, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Wilmington, N. C., confided to his friends here to-night that at noon to-morrow in Reidsville he would be united in marriage with Miss Mary Neal, of that place. The two met for the first time last June at a Baptist midsummer meeting. After the ceremony they will leave for Washington City for a few days, coming from there here, where Dr. Hale is to conduct a revival meeting. This is Dr. Hale's second marriage, his first wife having died some years ago. Miss Neal is a popular young lady and very active in church work in Reidsville.

Death of a Wilmington Lady.

Capt. E. D. Williams received a telegram yesterday announcing the death of his neice, Mrs. Oscar Wilkinson, at Hamilton, O. The funeral and interment will take place at Dayton.

Mrs. Wilkinson was a Miss Atkins of Wilmington, and she was married here last October.

COLLISION AT SEA.

The British Schooner Theta Run Down by an Unknown Steamer.

ONE MAN LOST OVERBOARD.

The Schooner's Crew Brought to Wilmington Yesterday by Clyde Line Steamer Mohican — Schooner Abandoned Off Delaware.

The Clyde Line steamship "Mohican," Captain E. W. Devereaux, which arrived in port yesterday morning from New York, brought a shipwrecked crew of eight men. They were Captain Marsters and seven seamen from the British schooner "Theta," which was run down by an unknown steamer at 1:30 A. M. Sunday, fifteen miles northwest of the Five Fathom lightship, on the Delaware coast.

Upon arrival here Captain Marsters reported to Mr. James Sprunt, British vice consul, and filed with him his statement of the disaster. Captain Marsters states that his ship belongs in Windsor, Nova Scotia, and was bound from St. Simond's Island, Ga., with a cargo of 883,000 feet of lumber, consigned to Wood, Barkers & Co., of Dorchester, New Brunswick. The captain relates that about 1:30 A. M. Sunday, an unknown steamer ran into the "Theta" off the Delaware coast while his ship was headed north by east. The steamer struck the schooner aft, cutting through her quarter to midship. The after shrouds and steering wheel were cut away and the second mate who was standing watch at the wheel was probably killed and knocked overboard, as he was never seen after the catastrophe. He was an old seaman named Graham who was recently shipped as second mate. He was standing at the wheel and upon the approach of the steamer was heard to call out that a steamer was bearing down on the schooner. Then the crash came and when the captain reached the deck nothing could be seen of the man. The steamer sheered off and continued her voyage without stopping to ascertain what damage she had done or whether her assistance were needed.

Captain Marsters says when he heard Mate Sanders cry that a steamer was going to run into them he jumped out of his berth and started for the deck. Before he could get out on deck the steamer's bow struck about three feet from where he had been sleeping. The crashing of breaking timbers created a tremendous noise and wreckage and furniture were tumbled about in such confusion that it took him nearly a minute to extricate himself from the wreckage. If he had remained in his berth he would have been killed, but as it was he escaped with some bad bruises about the hands.

Captain Marsters stated that when he reached the deck, the steamer was heedlessly steaming away. As soon as the collision occurred the schooner immediately began to fill with water and lumber commenced to float in the hold. The schooner's lifeboat had also been smashed and could not be used in an attempt to desert the schooner. There was left a small boat, but as all hands knew it would be sure destruction to attempt to go to sea with the waves running so high, they decided to stick by the sinking ship until daylight. In the meantime signals of distress had been hoisted and about 5:30 A. M. Sunday, just about daylight, the steamer "Mohican," having observed the signals of distress, hove in sight and bore down on the "Theta" to assist her. Captain Devereaux, of the "Mohican," offered to take the captain and and his crew off, and Captain Marsters readily assented, as his ship's steering gear was disabled and she was waterlogged. Captain Marsters states that his ship was burning her lights and there was no excuse for the steamer to have run into his ship. To him the steamer appeared to be a passenger ship, as she bore away under a full head of steam.

When Captain Marsters consented to be taken off the "Theta," the "Mohican" lowered one of her boats and Captain Devereaux sent a crew to take the imperiled men off. The rescue boat was commanded by First Officer Ardel, of the "Mohican," and he secured every man on the "Theta." Every kindness was shown by Captain Devereaux to the shipwrecked captain and his crew, and Captain Marsters expresses his deep sense of obligation and appreciation to Captain Devereaux and every man of the "Mohican." He states that words are inadequate to express their profound appreciation of himself and crew for what had been done for them by their brave and kind rescuers. As a further expression of their thanks, Vice Consul Sprunt on yesterday sent Captain Devereaux the following official communication:

British Vice Consulate,
Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 13, 1904.
Captain C. W. Devereux, Steamer "Mohican," Wilmington, N. C.

Dear Sir: In behalf of Captain George Marsters and the surviving members of the crew of the British schooner, "Theta," which was run down at sea by an unknown steamer on the night of September 11th, I have to thank you cordially for your prompt and timely rescue after the colliding steamer had abandoned them in a sinking condition, and for your subsequent kindness in supplying their necessities and in bringing them safely to this port.

Yours faithfully,
(Signed) JAMES SPRUNT,
British Vice Consul.

The schooner "Theta" was a ship of 490 tons displacement and was owned in Windsor, Nova Scotia. Her owners have been wired about the disaster, and when they are heard from Capta in Marsters and his crew will probably go home by rail.

The "Theta" Towed to New York.

[By Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The "Pathfinder arrived to-day from Norfolk with the derelict British schooner "Theta" in tow. The "Pathfinder" picked the derelict up at sea last Sunday near the Five Fathom Bank lightship, while bound from Norfolk for Boston with a cargo of coal. When she sighted the derelict her sails were all set. She evidently had been hastily abandoned after being in collision with an unknown vessel. The fate of her crew is unknown. Her starboard quarter was stove in, but otherwise the hull was in good condition. She was leaking badly but was kept afloat by the cargo of hard pine timber in her hold. The "Theta" is a three-masted schooner of 490 tons register. She left Brunswick, Ga., on Sept. 1st for Dorchester with a full cargo of lumber. She was a vessel, being only three years old.

HONORS FOR A TAR HEEL EDITOR.

Editor Josephus Daniels of the Raleigh News and Observer gets credit for conceiving the idea, and, as chairman of the committee, carrying out the plans for the conference of Democratic and Independent editors, recently held in New York. The purpose of the conference was to help the cause of Judge Parker, and we haven't the slightest doubt but it will be one of the most potent influences in the campaign. The campaign was a success and Mr. Daniels is entitled to all the honor that he is getting out of it. More than 500 editors attended, and it was a touching of elbows that is bound to solidify the editorial phalanx that is holding up the Parker banner.

The press of North Carolina, without regard to whether or not they agree with Editor Daniels in his views all the time, should naturally be possessed of a sense of pride that it was a Tar Heel editor who was slick enough to initiate the movement and enginner it to a successful conclusion. We sincerely congratulate Mr. Daniels, and it gratifies us to note that the editors so appreciated his work that they presented him a handsome loving cup. The cup is of solid silver, is eight inches high, six inches in diameter at the widest part and has three buckhorn handles. It bears this inscription:

"Presented to Hon. Josephus Daniels, chairman National Editorial Conference, by the Democratic and independent editors of the United States, Esopus, September 8, 1904."

We are sure that Editor Daniels has just cause to appreciate this gift from such an aggregation of brains as was that gathering of editors who met in New York and then called on Judge Parker at Rosemount.

NORTH CAROLINIAN'S IMPRESSION OF PARKER.

The editors who attended the recent conference of the Democratic editors at New York, and subsequently visited Judge Parker at Esopus, were greatly impressed with that distinguished American. We got our impressions of Judge Parker a year or so ago through newspaper sketches of him, and from the first moment we read the impartial and honest impressions of such writers as James Creelman and those on the staff of the Brooklyn Eagle and Brooklyn Citizen, we picked out the New Yorker as the winner of the nomination for the Presidency by the Democratic party.

Here is a firstrate estimate of the Democratic nominee, taken from the Salisbury Sun of Monday:

State Senator Charles A. Webb, of Asheville, was in Salisbury this morning returning from Esopus, where he accompanied the editorial party on a visit to Judge Parker.

"In my estimation," said Mr. Webb, "Judge Parker is one of the most wonderfully magnetic magnetic men in the United States. He has a keen, clear, penetrating eye and there is genuineness in his handshake. The impression I had of Judge Parker before I met him," continued Mr. Webb, "was that he was of a phlegmatic temperament. The moment I looked upon the man I was wholly undeceived. There are those qualities about him that attract and draw one irresistibly to him. I have always regarded Bryan as a man of striking personal magnetism, but he does not attract to the degree that Judge Parker does."

What do you think of Judge Parker's qualities as a speaker?

"I was never more surprised. While he read his speech to the editorial assemblage it was not in the slightest degree in a perfunctory way. His voice is pleasing and his manner entirely agreeable. In fact I was told by a close friend of Judge Parker that when he went upon the bench he was one of the strongest stump speakers in New York."

Mr. Webb says there is a generally hopeful air over the situation in New York.

TRYING TO GOLD-BRICK THE FARMERS.

Commenting upon Roosevelt's letter of acceptance, the Columbia Record very aptly says:

He "stands pat" on the tariff and labors to show that the agricultural interests of the country are directly benefitted, failing to mention the fact that owing to the tariff, American farm machinery is sold cheaper abroad than it is to the home farmer. He made no reference to the dearly beloved brother in black.

Another striking thing about it is that he argues to show the farmers where they get the benefit from protection but uses no argument on the manufacturers for the very palpable reason that he doesn't have to. Farmers evidently do not feel very greatly the benefit they get out of the tariff and their case is a little doubtful if the apostles of protection have to make a fine spurn argument to convince them of it. The average farmer is as hard to fool as the balance of us. It is very few farmers that you can sell a gold brick to at this time.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— The sons of Confederate veterans serving under the son of Gen. Grant! Say, Teddy, go off and feel ashamed of yourself!—Macon Telegraph.

—— Richmond Times-Dispatch: Old Jack is not behind the railroad at this Manassas, and so far as reported there isn't anybody standing there like a stone wall.

— Secretory Wilson is not worrying himself just now about the boll weevil, as he is giving all his attention to the Democratic poll weevil.—Washington Post.

——"President Roosevelt declares that Oyster Bay is the best little town in the country." And still a colored brother can't get a shave in a barber shop there.—Richmond News-Leader.

—— From the report to the effect that the Panama revolutionists now in power are thinking of revolting against themselves, it appears that hari-kari, or some other revolting sort of suicide, is about to happen there.—Atlanta Journal.

—— Negroes are largely to blame for the growing opposition to more and better schools for their children. There are many thousands of intelligent men and women in every Southern city who fail to see why they should be taxed to educate thousands of children who not infrequently grow up to no good purpose.—Nashville American.

—— Imperial orders have gone forth prohibiting any of the heads of departments or their subordinates from mentioning the probable public expenditures for next year. The American people must be kept in the dark as much as possible and as long as possible as to the use of their money. If they should get hints of the extent of the extravagance in time they might be able to check it at the ballot-box, and hence the information is to be carefully withheld from them. This is the very essence of imperialism. Under its government what right have the people to know what is proposed to do with their money?—Philadelphia Record.

Lake Geneva, Wis., Nov. 20, 1903.

Life has been one long night of misery for me during the past three years, because of my miserable state of health. It seemed that I endured all the misery that a woman could endure in that time and live. Three years ago I caught cold while out skating, and suffered a severe fall at the same time. As it unfortunately happened during the menstrual period the subsequent consequences were as bad as could well be imagined. Inflammation and ulceration set in, not only in the womb, but also in the ovaries, and affected the fallopian tubes.

WINE OF CARDUI

My physician did his very best to relieve me, but after three months declared there was no relief except through an operation, which I objected to most decidedly. I then tried several highly recommended remedies, without any help, until my mother advised me to try Wine of Cardui as it had been recommended to her.

I took it as a drowning person grasps at a straw and it proved a veritable Godsend to me. My pains gradually grew less, the daily headaches I had suffered from then disappeared. My general health kept improving and in thirteen weeks I was fully restored. No operation was needed. Wine of Cardui proved my restorer and most gladly do I give it the entire credit.

— A dispatch from Reidsville on Monday says: When the train loaded with the First Regiment North Carolina soldiers stopped here this morning en route home from the army manœuvers at Manassas several of the men left the car and proceded to loot some of the nearby stores. Ed. Millers' place was entered and something over a hundred dollars' worth goods taken by the crowd of toughs. Wm. Young's saloon was not overlooked during the line of march, and that concern's stock of intoxicants was greatly reduced. Other merchants had enough forethought to lock up their places of business and stay away until the soldiers took their departure. Mayor Watt says he will notify Governor Aycock and put in a claim for damages. The other soldiers were quite orderly, none giving Reidsville any trouble save the North Carolinians.

Wedding Tours.

"The custom of taking wedding tours is a remnant of the ancient times when men got their wives by capture," said a professor to a class in Roman history recently. "As soon as a man captured the woman he wanted to marry," continued the professor, "the young couple ran away to avoid the wrath of the bride's relatives. Men don't get their wives by capture now, but the custom of taking wedding tours still survives, a reminder of the ancient times." The professor was led to make these remarks while discussing the legend of the capture of the Sabine women.

How Cossacks Catch Fish.

The Cossacks on some of the rivers in Russia have a singular method of catching the finny tribe in winter. They cut a long trench across a river when frozen and run a net from one bank to the other; then, riding several miles up the stream, they form a line across the frozen surface and gallop their horses down toward the nets. The fish, hearing the noise and clatter of hoofs, become frightened, dart with a rush downstream and are thus entangled in the net.

The Cause, Not the Effect.

Little Lucy Brown, while running in the yard one day, suddenly tripped and fell. Her mother, being attracted by the child's screams, rushed out, crying:

"Why, Lucy, what's the matter? Was it an accident?"

"N'm," replied Lucy, between her sobs, "it was a brick."—Little Chronicle.

Rivers In Korea.

On the western coast of Korea the tides of the Yellow sea are higher than anywhere in the world outside the bay of Fundy, and while the rivers of eastern Korea are clear streams, that run swiftly from the mountains, those on the western side are great brown, muddy rivers, up which the thirty foot ocean tides surge many miles.

Doctors Do Taste Drugs.

"Do doctors know how their own medicine tastes?" was a question put to a group of physicians.

"To be sure," said one, "but we have hard work to convince our patients that we do. 'If you only knew how this beastly stuff tastes, doctor, you wouldn't ask me to take it'—that is what they say. And they are hard headed people, too, who say that, people who are by no means raving in delirium. It's hard ever to convince them that a doctor has a tasting acquaintance with his medicine.

"'How did you find out about it?' is one of their trump questions. 'You have never been laid up with all the diseases in the dictionary. How did you learn what the different remedies taste like?' It never occurs to the average patient that tasting drugs is a part of the medical student's education and that no man is qualified to practice until he has learned the flavor of the medicines he expects to prescribe."—New York Times.

Ancient Beards.

The ancient Jews considered it the greatest insult that could be offered to a man to pluck his beard. It was a notion of the Mohammedans that, though Noah reached his thousandth birthday, no hair of his blessed beard fell off or became white; but the Mohammedans had no more authority for that than for their belief that the devil has but one solitary long hair for a beard.

It was, as some say, in order to distinguish themselves from the ancient Israelites that the followers of Mohammed cropped the beard; but Mohammed, as we know, sanctioned the dyeing of the beard and preferred a cane color because that was the traditional hue of Abraham's beard. More than that, have we not the common Mohammedan oath, "By the beard of the prophet," as well as the supplication, "By your beard, or the life of your beard?"

Ruskin's Impulsive Generosity.

One day, walking near Radley, his attention was caught by a group of little girls playing in the road, and he went and talked to them. One of them specially attracted his attention. He asked her why she was playing in the dust. Had she no garden at home? Did she love flowers? What was her name? And she replied modestly, with wonder in her eyes. On reaching home he gave orders to his solicitor to look out for and buy a cottage with a garden in Radley and have a deed of gift made out in the little girl's name, which was done accordingly, and she, full of wonder, with her astonished parents, entered at once into possession of it.—From "Ruskin In Oxford."

A Quick Reply.

The Duchess of Lauraguais, who was somewhat given to making poetry, could not think of a word to rhyme with coif. Turning to Talleyrand, who chanced to be by her side, she said, "Prince, give me a rhyme to coif." "Impossible, duchess," replied Talleyrand without a moment's delay, "for that which pertains to the head of a woman has neither rhyme nor reason."

More to the Point.

"Ef yer real interested," said Deacon Skinner, "I'll tell ye what I want fur thet horse."

"Oh, I wouldn't be interested in knowin' thet," replied Farmer Shoude.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, September 16.—The cotton market opened firm at an advance of ten points on active covering and buying in response to firmer cables than expected, expectations of a bullish crop at midday, and fears that the cold weather reported in the Northwest might work southward into the belt. Cables continued firm, and the market worked quite steadily upward until just before midday it showed a net gain of about nineteen to twenty-two points. The government report was on the whole disappointing to bulls. Following the reading of this, prices broke sharply under liquidation and selling by New Orleans. After declining to a net advance of only four to five points, however, the downward tendency was checked and in the late trading the market showed a very firm tone with demand more or less general. Fearful Odds Against Him.

Bed ridden, alone and destitute. Such, in brief, was the condition of an old soldier by the name of J. J. Havens, of Versailles, O. For years he was troubled with kidney disease, and neither doctors nor medicines gave him relief. At length he tried Electric Bitters. It put him on his feet in short order, and now he testifies: "I'm on the road to complete recovery." Best on earth for Liver and Kidney troubles, and all forms of Stomach and Bowel complaints. SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Near Gorman's Bridge, in the vicinity of Asheville, on Monday afternoon, Mrs. John Clontz, of Alexander, was run over and killed by a train on the Southern Railway. Mr. and Mrs. Clontz had been to a store at Gorman's Bridge to make some purchases, riding on horseback. They left the store and started down the track together, when the train came upon them and Mrs. Clontz was struck. Mr. Clontz escaped without injury.

— At Charlotte Monday morning Mr. P. L. McManus, superintendent of the Atlanta and Charlotte division of the Southern Railway, was robbed of a purse containing $300. Mr. McManus spent Sunday in Washington with his family, leaving the capital that night. He had his purse and money when he left the Pullman Monday morning. Two parties supposed to be the thieves are being shadowed.

— Morehead Coaster: Mr. Richard S. Howland, who has leased the A. & N. C. Railroad, has resided in North Carolina six years and has invested over three hundred thousand dollars in permanent improvements at Asheville. He has vast business interests in New England, California and Cuba, and we believe that he will so develop the country adjacent to this road that the lease will abundantly profit the whole east. Especially do we expect great things for this city, notably a deep water port, with a line of steamers carrying coal and cotton from this port North and East, returning laden with merchandise.

—A dispatch from Greensboro on Monday says: Special trains carrying returning Southern troops from the Manassas manoeuvres have been going through all day, several passing through last night. Owing to the conduct of many of these troops going to Manassas the proprietors of the cafes, restaurants and saloons near the station, had laid in a small store of guns and amunition for protection against pillage. Each train has stopped here from 1 to 30 minutes, and there has been no cause whatever for complaint against the conduct of the troops going home. They have kept closely to their coaches, and appear under perfect discipline.

— At an unusually interesting meeting of the William Dorsey Pender Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, at Tarboro on Monday, Miss Lanier, the secretary, read a most gracious letter from Gen. Julian S. Carr accepting an invitation to be the orator of the occasion of the unveiling of a monument to the Confederate veterans, those who died for their country and those still in our midst on October 29. Mrs. R. H. Speight had a very interesting paper on Private H. L. Wyatt of the Edgecombe Guards, the first Confederate soldier killed in the war. Delegates and alternates were chosen to represent the chapter at the State convention to be held in Goldsboro in October. Mrs. Frank Powell and Mrs. L. L. Staton were chosen as delegates, Miss Reba Bridgers and Miss Sallie Staton alternates. The members of the chapter are taking many active steps as the time draws near to the realization of their efforts—the unveiling of the monument.

— One of the boldest and most dastardly crimes that has been committed in Asheville for years occurred Saturday evening shortly after 8 o'clock, when a negro stabbed Miss Ida Blas, a young white girl of that city, while she was walking along Woodfin street returning to her home after her day's work. Miss Blas for the past two years has been engaged at the Swannonoa Steam Laundry as marker. Saturday evening she left the laundry about 8 o'clock and started to walk to her home in the northeastern portion of the city, going by way of Woodfin street—a street that is thickly populated, and where there are numerous electric lights. While going down Oak street she noticed a negro following her and upon reaching Woodfin street she decided to go into one of the houses for protection. It was then that she was suddenly struck in the right side and felled to the ground. Badly frightened and suffering from the effects of the blow she lay for an instant and then screamed. As she was struck she saw her assailant start to run and recognized him as a negro, but does not think she would be able to identify the man should she see him again.

— Knapp Horner, who last Friday killed Deputy Sheriff Joe Nichols in Orange county, was captured Sunday and taken to Durham on Monday for safe keeping. He was captured within a few hundred yards of his home in the northern part of Orange county, in a section known as Pine Knot. This is some twelve miles north of Hillsboro. Shots were fired before he was taken and the prisoner is wounded, but not seriously. It was feared that he would be lynched Monday night. Quite a number of Nichols' neighbors had gathered in Hillsboro and violence was feared. Some six or seven shots were fired at him when he was arrested. The officers who took him to Durham say only two shots were fired. He is wounded on the right side from head to foot, but his wounds are not serious. Being asked about the killing, "I ought not to have killed him," said Horner, "but he shot at me. Guess they will hang me, but I am now fifty-eight years old, and they cannot get me out of more than ten years at most. I am sorry I cannot gather my corn crop." Horner is quite weak on account of his wounds. He is still vicious, however, and when asked about killing a man several years ago, he said, "Yes, I killed him while defending myself. I have never yet taken the last lick." He will be tried in Hillsboro at the term of court beginning Oct. 17.

What Is Life?

In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in Constipation, Headache or Liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly re-adjusts this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25c, at R. R. BELLAMY'S drug store.

WHEN BETSY SEWS.

When Betsy starts to sew,
I wonder where they go—
The needles and pins and all such things—
When Betsy starts to sew?

When Betsy starts to sew,
Dear me! Then all is woo—
The scissors lost and household crossed—
When Betsy starts to sew.

When Betsy starts to sew,
Now, friends, you all must know
These times are rare, so don't despair
When Betsy starts to sew.

Bunny—Well, I declare! There is that dude hunter that shot at me all last week. He's after me with a club this time!—San Francisco Examiner.

Tact Behind the Counter.

"Talk about being a good saleswoman," said a clerk in one of the big stores. "Mrs. X. came in this morning to buy a rain cloak, and what do you think I sold her?"

"Can't guess."

"A pink chiffon party dress and a lace parasol."

"Well, I didn't do so badly myself," said another. "We had a lot of maids' caps, made of swiss and lace, and I sold about ten for pincushion covers."

"That's as bad as my brother in the drug store. A man came in with a headache and wanted to buy a menthol pencil to rub on his forehead. They were out of menthol pencils, and George sold him a stick of indelible ink."—Indianapolis News.

Results of Genius.

"Who lives in that magnificent house with the big white pillars?"

"Mr. Sniggsley, the manufacturer of the celebrated Sniggsley self inserting and self fastening collar button."

"And I wonder what poor excuse for a man it is who can give his family nothing better for a home than that mean little place down there at the corner of the alley?"

"That's the residence of the genius who invented the celebrated Sniggsley self inserting and self fastening collar button."—Chicago Record-Herald

MEN ARE POWERLESS

To Fight Against Disease Unless They Strike at the Underlying Cause.

To treat Dandruff, and Falling Hair, with irritants or oils on which a parasitic germ will prosper, is like scooping water from the ocean to prevent the tide from rising.

You cannot accomplish a satisfactory cure without having a right understanding of the fundamental causes of the trouble.

You must kill the Dandruff Germ.

Newbro's Herpicide does this because it is specially made to do that very thing.

When the germ is removed, the hair has no choice but to resume healthy growth and beauty.

The Morning Star

WILMINGTON, N. C.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 14.

STILL AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Russian Auxiliary Cruiser Lena Will Probably be Dismantled and Remain Until End of the War.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Russia's auxiliary cruiser Lena, which put into the port of San Francisco last Sunday, presumably from Vladivostok, either will have to leave that port within a brief time prescribed by this government or will have to dismantle. That in brief, it can be stated authoritatively, is the decision of the American government. If in the judgment of the experts who are making an examination the vessel can be made seaworthy in twenty-four hours, orders will be issued to her commander to leave port at the expiration of that period. Indeed, it may be within the discretion of the government to give her commander a little more time if that be advisable.

On the contrary, if the report should show that the ship is in actual need of repairs and overhauling and the making of the repairs would occupy any considerable time, the captain will be directed to dismantle the vessel and she will remain in that condition until the termination of the Russian-Japanese war. It is not anticipated that serious difficulties or embarrassments to this government will grow out of the pending incident.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—Acting under instructions from Collector of Port Stratton, Capt. J. K. Bulger, U. S. inspector of hulls and boilers, to-day inspected the boilers of the Russian boat Lena. Collector Stratton immediately reported to Washington the observations of the inspection, giving his official approval.

The impression prevails among those best informed that the Lena will be dismantled and remain here until the end of the war. She is still guarded by several vessels of the United States navy.

TRAIN ROBBERY IN IOWA.

Express Safe Dynamited and Contents Taken—Mounted Men With Bloodhounds After the Robbers.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

DES MOINES, IOWA, Sept. 13.—Five bandits perpetrated a successful holdup of a passenger train on the Chicago Rock Island and Pacific railway near Letts, Iowa, early this morning. The statements of the expressmen are that the robbers secured no money, though the safe was blown open and the contents taken. The officers assert that the safe contained merchandise of some value, company papers in transit, etc., but no money. Mounted men with bloodhounds are now scouring the country for miles in every direction in an effort to apprehend the robbers. The robbery occurred at a place known as Whiskey Hollow, about six miles out of Muscatine and near Fruitland.

The train known as No. 11 is a through Chicago and Kansas City train. The robbery was at the end of a sharp curve and exactly where a similar hold-up was engineered two years ago by Marx Niedermier and Van Dinne, the skilled Chicago car barn bandits. As the train rounded the curve the engineer saw a red lantern on the track and immediately stopped. Immediately the engine, express car and baggage car were boarded by the robbers, apparently five in number. A fusilade of shots was fired along the sides of the train to prevent interference by passengers. The messenger of the express car was compelled to open the door. The car safe was dynamited and the contents taken, after which the engine crew was driven to the passenger coaches. The engine was then cut off and the robbers ran it quickly through Letts and to within two miles of Columbus Junction, where it was left standing. The manner in which the bandits handled the engine convince the officials that some of the robbers are experienced railroad men.

RED MEN OF UNITED STATES.

Officers Elected at the Convention in St. Joseph—Adoption of an Important Amendment to the By-Laws.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 13.—Red Men of the United States elected the following officers to-day: Great Incohonee, Thos. H. Watts, of Alabama; Great Prophet, Thos. Garrison, of Indiana; Great Senior Sagamore, John W. Cherry, of Virginia; Great Junior Sagamore, W. A. Byrd, of Kansas; Great Chief of Records, Wilson Brooks, of Illinois; Great Keeper of Wampum, Thomas J. Bell, of Massachusetts.

There was an animated discussion of a proposed provision of the laws by which saloon-keepers, bar-tenders and retail liquor dealers be erased from the membership. The amendment was adopted. The amendment also provides that any member who shall engage in the retail liquor business after having been admitted to the order shall be liable to suspension. It is not incumbent upon the State councils to accept this law, but it is recommended to them for adoption.

COTTON AND TOBACCO.

The Weather Bureau's Weekly Summary of the Condition of Crops.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 13.—The Weather Bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions says:

While rust and shedding continue over a large part of the cotton belt, reports of injury from these causes are less numerous than in the previous week in the central districts. The weather has been favorable for picking, except in portions of Georgia and Florida, where this work was hindered by heavy rains, and picking is now begun in the northern districts.

In Texas cotton has improved slightly in a few northern counties, but on the whole very little new fruit is forming, and boll weevils are puncturing nearly all new squares in the southwestern, coast, central and eastern counties, as well as in a number of northern counties.

Late tobacco has been unfavorably affected by dry weather in portions of the Middle Atlantic States and the Ohio valley, but on the whole the crop has made good progress and is now largely secured.

Col. W. H. Patterson, of Philadelphia, Pa., died at his home at Russellville, Tenn., yesterday, aged 70 years. He was a writer of note. He was a son of General Robert Patterson, a distinguished soldier and patriot.

THE WAR IN THE FAR EAST.

No Renewal of Fighting—Uneasiness in St. Petersburg—Reinforcements of Men and Artillery.

There has been no renewal of fighting on a large scale between the Russian and the Japanese armies in the Far East.

At St. Petersburg the people are harassed by rumors of impending disaster to General Kuropatkin, which find ready credence because of the lack of official information from the general's headquarters at Mukden, and for the moment the popularity of the head of the Russian armies in the field is in eclipse. In that capital, too, there is much uneasiness felt lest the Japanese advance in Manchuria should afford a reason for the growth of anti-Russian spirit in China and the ultimate projection of that power into the conflict.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

Gen. Kuropatkin.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 13, 6 P. M.—The report persists, although there is nothing official to confirm it, that General Kuropatkin has recommended the trial by court martial of Major General Orliff, upon whose failure to carry out his orders the non-success of General Kuropatkin's plans against General Kuroki at the most critical hour of the battle of Liao Yang is attributed.

According to a statement made by a personage connected with the Emperor's surroundings, Kuropatin had assured his majesty of his ability to accept battle and defeat the Japanese at Liao Yang, and for this reason the Emperor's disappointment is all the more keen and his dissatisfaction at the outcome all the greater. It is believed that General Kuropatkin has over 200,000 men. The general staff says to day that since the battle of Liao Yang General Kuropatkin has been reinforced by two corps. It is supposed that the reinforcements of artillery amount to fully three hundred guns.

Official Report.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 13.—The Emperor last night received a long report from General Kuropatkin, outlining the military situation and the disposition of the Russian forces and describing minutely the strategical conditions. It is also understood that General Kuropatkin dealt lengthily on the political aspect of the situation. The contents of the report will not be published.

WAKE COUNTY DEMOCRATS.

Chairmanship of the Executive Committee Still in Doubt—The Recent Primaries. Announcements for Speakers.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 13.—The chairmanship of the Wake county Democratic executive committee for the impending campaign is still in doubt, Armistead Jones claiming that he is certain of a good majority of the newly elected committee for his re-election, and W. B. Snow, on the other hand, claiming that he is sure to be elected. Snow directed the campaign for the reform candidates for commissioners, etc., who won the nominations in the recent Democratic primaries.

The official count of the returns from the Democratic primaries Saturday was made to-day and it was ascertained the majority of J. C. Ellington over B. B. Broughton for the State Senate is 178. Good majorities for Ellington in several of the remote precincts ran up Ellington's majority considerably more than even his managers estimated, a majority of 50 being about the most that was expected before the official count was made.

Hon. S. L. Patterson, commissioner of agriculture, returned to-day from his home in Caldwell county, where he has been for some time. He says crop conditions in his section are the finest he has seen in years. He will begin very soon to devote considerable time to the campaign.

An amendment was granted to-day for the charter of the McLean Co., of Greensboro, whereby the company is authorized to issue $10,000 additional preferred stock. T. G. McLean is president of the company.

Among the arrivals to-day are O. H. Fooley, Aberdeen; G. C. Tudor, Winston-Salem; E. F. Hines, Durham; C. W. Rowe, Chapel Hill, and Chas. McCary, Durham.

Secretary Pogue, of the State Fair, says the exhibits and attractions actually assured now guarantee the fair in October to be fully as large as that of last year and there are sure to be fully a third more entries. He and Dr. Butler, State veterinarian, will in the next few days send to the manager of Biltmore, Geo. W. Vanderbilt's estate, a certificate guaranteeing that cattle exhibited here will not be in any way exposed to tick infection and this will assure the bringing of the famous Jersey herd of cattle from Biltmore in connection with other exhibits from this superb farm.

The following announcements of appointments for the campaign are made from Democratic headquarters to-day:

Hon. W. A. Self, Elector-at-Large—King's Mountain, Sept. 22, 2 P. M.; Charlotte, Sept. 23, at night; Wadesboro, Sept. 23; Norwood, Sept. 24; Randleman, Sept. 26; Troy, Sept. 27; Thomasville, Sept. 28.

J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State—Battleboro, Sept. 22, 2 P. M.; Enfield, Sept. 23, at night; Kittrell, Sept. 23, 3 P. M.; Franklinton, Sept. 23, at night; Youngsville, Sept. 24; Walnut Cove, Sept. 28; Madison, Sept. 26, at night; Wentworth, Sept. 29; Reidsville, Sept. 29, at night; Hillsboro, Sept. 30.

MR. DAVIS' LETTER.

The First Draft Accepting the Democratic Nomination Completed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Former Senator Henry G. Davis to-day completed the first draft of his letter accepting the Democratic nomination for vice president. Mr. Davis came to New York to confer with the leaders of his party regarding this document, and Senator Gorman, of Maryland, who arrived here last night, came on the same errand. Chairman Taggart, of the National Committee, and Chairman Shehan, of the Executive Committee, and former Senator C. A. Towe had been consulted regarding the document. The draft of the letter completed to-day will be revised to-morrow and the final touches added Thursday, when Mr. Davis expects to leave for Elkins, W. Va. The letter will not be made public until after the formal action of Judge Parker has been published.

Senator Gorman to-day expressed great confidence regarding the conditions in Maryland from a Democratic standpoint.

Governor Terrell of Georgia has received the report of the Statesboro court of inquiry and upon the findings of the court has ordered a court martial to take up the case of Captain Hitch and other officers of the militia, in Savannah Sept. 29.

SEVEN PERSONS BURNED TO DEATH.

Six Others Seriously Injured in a Tenement House Blaze in New York City.

FIRE OF INCENDIARY ORIGIN.

Many Thrilling Acts of Rescue—Women and Children Dropped from Windows—Six Members of One Family Found Dead.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, September 13.—Seven persons were burned to death and six others were injured seriously in a fire which partially destroyed a tenement building at Nos. 68 70 First street early to day.

More than twenty families were asleep in the building and there were many thrilling acts in their rescue, which was accomplished by firemen and the police. It was shortly after two o'clock when the alarm was given. Within the few moments that had elapsed the flames were found to have gained great headway from the first floor, and the neighborhood was in a panic of terror. Women and children were being dropped from the windows of the lower floors, and dozens of grown persons were fighting in the hallways to reach the open air.

A policeman climbed to the roof of the adjoining building and by clinging to the cornice with the smoke pouring into his face, reached down to the windows of the fifth floor and rescued several children who were handed out by their parents.

Another officer, winding a coat about his head, entered the building from below and rolled down the stairs the body of a half suffocated man. Three times the officer came back carrying two persons in his arms. Then he fell exhausted.

Meantime, ladders had been run to the top of the building and firemen clambering up rescued at least twenty tenement dwellers who were about to jump. Men sought to reach the firemen first, but were thrust back while the women and children were taken out. One fireman, although badly burned, took seven persons from a single window on the fourth floor. When the work of rescue had been completed and the flames had been brought under control, the firemen hurriedly searched the crowded flats and on the fourth floor they found six members of the Konovitsch family dead. On top of the building an unidentified man was found dead.

Police Capt. McDermott and the firemen who first reached the burning building believe the fire was of incendiary origin. Their theory is borne out by the statements by the janitor of the building, who says that an attempt was made to set fire to the tenement last Thursday night.

THE ALTMAN-DUNCAN FEUD.

Situation at Baxter, Fla.—No Arrests Have Been Made—Altmans Claim Killing Was Done in Georgia.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Sept. 13.—W. H. Altman, postmaster, at Baxter, Fla., a brother of the Altmans implicated in the stabbing affray on the Georgia Southern and Florida road yesterday morning, came to Jacksonville to-day and attempted to have the Federal authorities arrest W. M. Duncan for attempting to assault his brother, Jesse Altman, assistant postmaster, and for interfering with the assistant postmaster in the discharge of his duties.

Altman claims that Duncan was seen approaching his store in which the postoffice is situated, carrying a gun, that his brother Jesse shot him in self defence and that there was no fusilade from the postoffice. The district attorney declined to prosecute. The sheriff of Baker county is in Baxter, but no arrests have been made. The Altmans claim that the men killed on the train were killed in Georgia. A prominent railroad official, however, who witnessed the tragedy, says the deed was done in Florida. Wilson's Battery has been held in readiness to go to Baxter at a moment's notice, but has not been ordered out. The other two military companies are out of the State.

The Governor and the president of the Senate are out of the State. The speaker of the House will not assume the duties of Governor until officially notified of the absence from the State of the Governor and the president of the Senate. The only railroad which leads to Baxter goes through a part of Georgia, so troops could not be sent there without first obtaining permission from the Governor of that State.

SMOTHERED IN COTTON.

[Special Star Telegram.]

The body was standing on its head in the center of the pile.
